SELL GDX

Dear Subscribers,

With inflation concerns gripping the market tighter and tighter like an anaconda, gold and gold mining stocks have soared. As I write, our Gold Miner's ETF (GDX) is up 21%. That's a great gain for less than one month.

I think GDX will be going much, much higher in the coming months as inflation takes hold. However, right now GDX shares are set for a cool down. Let's take advantage of this to lock in our gains. We'll revisit this trade again in the future. But for now, we're selling.

Action to Take: SELL the Gold Miner's ETF (GDX).

I'll be using the market's open price for our official closing price.

Good Investing!
